QUAKEWORLD AUTUMN SEASON

(1 comment)
Posted by Zalon @ 00:15 +03, 17 September 2019 - iMsg (Major News: Q1)

It's autumn, which means that it's time for another season of QuakeWorld action.

Starting in October, is the second season of the GetQuad 4on4 Draft Cup. The first season saw 17 teams and more than 90 players, spanning three divisions, with all but one game being played. The live draft is expected to be streamed this coming weekend, so signups will close very soon.

Also in October we'll see the 2on2 spin-off from the HammerTime Duel League, Time 2 Hammer. This 2on2 league will feature a division structure, so players will compete against teams within their own skill-range.

Division based duel league ThunderDome is also making a return, with its 12th season starting during October. Signups are open now and are expected to be open until at least the end of September.

Later this year, the second season of the before mentioned HammerTime Duel League will be open for signups, with the season set to start in January.

Warfork is a demanding fast paced first person shooter with a focus on speed, aim, movement, and above all competitive play. There are no gimmicks such as leveling up, purchasable weapons, gory graphic violence, etc.

The game is a fork of Warsow. Warfork replaces Warsaw trademarks with our own.

QUAKECON 2019 - FINAL DAY

(164 comments)

Posted by diegowar @ 13:42 +03, 28 July (Major News: QC)
2019 - iMsg

Day 3, the last day
of the

robin, was once again super tense.

As time went on, all eyes turned to 🇷🇺 Cooler and 🇩🇪 K1llsen, to see if they would be able to do it, and keep their top 2 placings.

After losing to 🇺🇦 Xron in round 16, 🇩🇪 K1llsen couldn't afford any more match losses, and the suspense kept rising up until the very last minute of the very last map of the very last match against 🇨🇦 Cha1n.

But there was also some confusion, a lot of people didn't know how the players were ranked in the round robin, and I think there are still people who don't know. So here is how it works. It was a point system, where you got:

2.25 points for a 2-0 win

2 points for a 2-1 win

1 point for a 1-2 loss

0 point for a 0-2 loss

It was definitely a very tight fight for that n°2 spot. In the final rankings, 🇩🇪 K1llsen has 37 points, 🇷🇺 Rapha is just behind at 36.5 points, and 🇮🇳 Raisy has 36.25 points.

But let's not forget about the real man of the day, 🇷🇺 Cooler. He scored an impressive 38.5 points, out of a maximum 42.75 possible!, simply amazing from the man who already reached the QuakeCon Final in 2006 and 2010. Is the third time going to be the charm?

Only time will tell, but we will first be treated to a series of prize matches with casters. They promise to be close and entertaining. See liquipedia.net/quake for more details. Prizes will probably be announced during the broadcast.

The show starts at 16:00 +03 on twitch.tv/quake (Grand Final at 23:00 +03).

QUAKECON 2019 - STANDINGS AFTER THE FIRST 2 DAYS

(138 comments)

Posted by diegowar @ 13:32 +03, 27 July (Major News: QC)
2019 - iMsg

Day 2
of the 2019

QuakeCon Duel Tournament saw a little bit of chaos, with freezes, some maps had to be restarted, servers had to be reboot ... but out of it still came an incredible day full of tense matches, upsets, comebacks, etc ...

This possibility of showing all matches from all POVs has only just arrived, that it will already be sorely missed if it's absent from future tournaments.

What contributes to the excitement, is of course the format. A round robin with 10 matches happening at the same time, and all of them being of great importance. They are what determine what your ranking in the tournament will be, give or take 1 place, as Sunday matches will not be a bracket, but prize matches.

Unlike normal group stages, players here can't afford to lose matches and hope to peak later, they need to be at 100% all the time. And the tension is palpable.

After two long days, and a total of 13 matches played for each player, the standings are:

Standings picture

What becomes apparent from these standings, is that unless things go wrong, six players will be battling for the well coveted top 2 spots of the round robin, giving access to the Grand Final and a shot at being the QuakeCon 2019 champion :

-  Cooler will be playing against Xron, Nosfa, Whaz, Cha1n, Br1ck and Dramis
-  Xron will be playing against Cooler, Av3k, K1llsen, Dahang, Spart1e and Vengeur
-  K1llsen will be playing against Base, Garpy, Xron, Nosfa, Whaz and Cha1n
-  Rapha will be playing against Nosfa,

Whaz, Cha1n, Br1ck, Dramis, Effortless
 Vengeur will be playing against Raisy, Toxjq, Psygib, Base, Garpy and Xron
 Raisy will be playing against Vengeur, Sib, Toxjq, Psygib, Base and Garpy

We can predict that  Rapha will be a heavy favorite for all his matches, but he stands 1 win behind Cooler/Xron/K1llsen, so he must hope that at least two of them will lose one match. It is a guarantee that at least 1 of them will lose a match, as Cooler and Xron will face off, as well as K1llsen and Xron. It also means that Cooler, Xron and K1llsen have their fate in their hands, each of them can try to win all their matches and will be guaranteed to reach the final.

Other than  Cooler vs  Xron (18:00 +03) and  K1llsen vs  Xron (21:00 +03), another match to look forward to is  Raisy vs  Vengeur (18:00 +03), who right off the bat will face off to determine which of them will stay on track and keep their chances to reach the top 2. There are many more matches that will be interesting, too many to mention them all.
